CLAYTON NEWS.

(To late for last week.)

W. F. Blakemore and little grandson, Kenneth, was here Monday.—C. H. Bruer and family spent Saturday night with Hubert Bruer and wife.—A. E. Caldwell and little son and Ezra Bruer motored to Paducah Sunday.—Mr. and Mrs. Oren Stigler and Hurdle Donnell, of Martin, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Donnell this week.—Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Donnell and Mr. and Mrs. Billie Bryant visited in Lake county this week.—On Nov. 1, the death angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Irvin and claimed for its own their daughter, Irene, who was only 19 years old. She joined the Baptist church when 15 years old. Irene was a sweet girl and was loved by all who knew her. She will greatly be missed at home and in the community. She was sick 35 days and all that loving hands could do to save her precious life was done, but all in vain. I would say to father, mother, sisters and brothers, do not grieve, because Irene has left us, for we would not call her back were it in our power to do so because she is enjoying the sweet rest which awaits all children of God. Funeral services were conducted by Bro. Lampkin and the body of Irene laid at rest at Antioch Monday morning.

REER-BYNUM. FAIROLOTH-HURT.

A double wedding at the Reed Boarding House in West Hickman, at 6:30 Sunday afternoon, when Rev. J. B. Housley spoke the words that united in holy wedlock Pleas Bynum and Miss Grace Reed, and B. J. Hurt and Miss Annie Faircloth. A small number of friends of the contracting parties were witnesses to the happy affair.

All are prominent and highly respected young people. The two grooms are employees of the Mengel Box Co., Mr. Bynum recently coming here from Gleason, Tenn.

This is the first double wedding occurring in Hickman in many years.

Both couples will continue to make their home in this city.

Here's congratulations — and lots of 'em.

No. Six-Sixty-Six

This is a prescription prepared especially for MALARIA or CHILLS & FEVER. Five or six doses will break any case, and if taken then as a tonic the Fever will not return. It acts on the liver better than Calomel and does not gripe or sicken. 25c

"THE OLD MAN,"

Boys, when you speak of your father don't call him the "old man." Of course you are older now than when you were taught to call him "father." You are much smarter than you were then, you are much more manly looking, your clothes fit you better, your hat has a modern shape and your hair is combed different, in short you are a "flyer" than you were then. Your father has a last year's coat, a two year old hat and a vest of still older pattern. He can not write such an elegant note as you can and all that, but don't call him "Old man." Call him "father." For years he has been hustling around to get things together, he has been held to the thorny path of uphill industry, and the brightest half of his life has gone from him forever. He loves you, though, as goes along without saying much about it, therefore be not ungrateful.

Whenever You Need a General Tonic Take Grove's

The Old Standard Grove's Tonic is equally valuable as a General Tonic because it contains the well known tonic properties of QUININE and IRON. It acts on the Liver, Drives out Malaria, Purifies the Blood and Builds up the Whole System. 50 cents.

HOUSLEY ACCEPTS CALL.

Rev. J. B. Housley has accepted a call as pastor of the West Hickman Baptist church, and will enter upon his pastoral duties on the second Sunday in December.

Rev. W. L. King, who recently resigned as pastor of this church, will probably go to Missouri or Lake county Tennessee. His work here has been very satisfactory and his congregation regret to lose him. He has held this charge for a number of years. They are, however, getting a mighty fine man in his stead. Rev. Housley is an earnest, sincere, hard working man and will doubtless prove more than satisfactory to the large congregation which has chosen him as their spiritual leader.

CAVES ARE PUZZLE

Holes in Hills Near Tokyo Make Archeologists Wonder.

Students Divided in Opinion—One Side Says They Were Homes of "Earth-Spiders," the Other Calls Them Beggars' Refuge.

The low hills around the village of Matsuyama, in the province of Salama, Japan, but a few hours' journey from Tokyo, are honeycombed with curious small caves which puzzle the archeologists. Students are divided into two camps in their conclusions about them. One side avers that they are the ancient habitations of the folk known as tsuchigumo, or "earth-spiders," who occupied Japan before the coming of the Ainos. The other side believes that they are sepulchers that have at different times been the refuge of beggars or outlaws. Writes Elsie Hoobach in The Technical World Magazine: "The caves, at first sight, seen back of an isolated group of cryptomeria trees and over a thatched cottage, look much like a swallow-bank. The resemblance is more noticeable upon nearer approach, for they are set close together in uneven rows and consist of a horizontal passageway ending in a roomy excavation. They are on the south slope of the hills—a warm, sunny exposure for winter weather. If the 'earth-spiders' said in their doorways, they could have seen their enemies approaching over the plain, while the latter were still a long distance away. The position of the caves is a strategic one, and adds a point in favor of the habitation theory.

Though the caves vary in size, their formation is the same. They have a small, molelike entrance five or six feet in depth, which expands into a chamber about six feet square and five or six feet high, in the case of the larger caves. Along either side of the chamber is a ledge seven or eight inches in height and fairly broad, that may have been covered with dried leaves or grass for a bed. Marks of the scraping tools that dug the rock out are still to be seen. To enter the larger caves one must stoop most humbly, but to enter the smaller ones it is necessary to get down on all fours, or to worm oneself in, serpentine fashion.

Doctor Teubel of the Imperial university of Japan uncovered, during six months of excavating work, over two hundred caves. No doubt many more, and perhaps many important secrets are still buried under the grass and trees of those gently sloping hills. In some places the sandstone has disintegrated so that the roofs have fallen in, but on the whole the caves present

A remarkable state of preservation. It is difficult to estimate their age, but the weapons, jars and household implements found in them are generally believed to belong to a race who lived there long before the days of the Ainos.

"During the years 1532-55 and 1558-78, fierce Japanese civil wars were waged on the wide plains that are now waving rice fields. The combatants may have taken refuge in the caves at that time. But whether those wild Japanese, in terror of other wild creatures stronger of limb and sharper of tooth than themselves, burrowed into the ground in order to find safety from such dangers, or whether it was their custom thus to bury their dead, they have left a mystery for the scholars."

Gets $50,000 for $50. Newburgh, N. Y.—Mrs. Joseph Kamp, who, 40 years ago, lent Joseph Patton $50 when he went West to seek his fortune, has just received a letter from Patton in which he says he is preparing to send her $50,000.

ENDORSED AT HOME.

Such Proof As This Should Convince Any Hickman Citizen.

The public endorsement of a local citizen is the best proof that can be produced. None better, none stronger can be had. When a man comes forward and testifies to his fellow-citizens, addresses his friends and neighbors, you may be sure he is thoroughly convinced or he would not do so. Telling one's experience when it is for the public good is an act of kindness that should be appreciated. The following statement given by a resident of Hickman adds one more to the many which are being published about cases of Home Endorsement Doan's Kidney Pills. Read it.

J. H. Pickett, Hickman, Ky., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills for several years and have found them to be just as advertised. I take them when I catch cold in my kidneys and they always cure. It gives me pleasure to recommend them." Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Pickett recommends. OBITUARY.

At the home of J. T. Bradley, Nov. 6, 1914, God in his wisdom called from our midst Mrs. Lizzie Wyatt, one who was loved by all who knew her. She was so sweet and good God wonderfully blessed her in all her suffering. She would smile and say all is well with me. I am saved. Tell all my relatives and friends to meet me in heaven. Tell my mother that I'll be there and to meet me as I will not live to see her here. Tell them not to grieve but prepare to meet me in heaven. Dear friends and parents do not mourn the death of such a saint. Only praise God for such a testimony to guide some one else to life of love and liberty. That overcomes all trials and a life everlasting. She was the wife of George Wyatt and the daughter of Mrs. Susie Allison. Her remains were laid to rest in the cemetery at Erin, Tenn., her home town. —A friend.
